Melbourne Arts Precinct Transformation

Project works update

Early works on the Melbourne Arts Precinct Transformation started in July and you'll see a lot more activity in the area as works progress.

Arts Centre Melbourne, the NGV, The Australian Ballet and tenants of the Ballet building will remain open for business throughout all the works.

This map will help you find your way as you walk around the area, and how to access The Australian Ballet building and Sturt Street.

Works behind Arts Centre Melbourne

Works have started behind the Arts Centre Theatres Building. Hoarding is in place, and artworks have been removed to keep them safe.

Works will be done within the following operating hours.

> Mondays to Fridays – 7am to 7pm
> Saturdays – 8am to 3pm
> Noisy works will conclude 30 minutes before matinee performances at the Arts Centre Melbourne which typically occur on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

At times, we may need to work outside of these hours. If night works or Sunday works are required, we'll be in contact with directly impacted residents.

Sturt Street traffic changes

There will be ongoing changes to Sturt Street as works progress on the Melbourne Arts Precinct transformation.

Art Centre Melbourne's carpark will remain open, and access will be via Kavanagh Street.

Sturt Street lane 3, which is the left hand lane travelling from City Road, has been closed to allow for direct access to the construction site.

Sturt Street will be temporarily closed daily from Tuesday 9 August to Friday 12 August between 7am – 6pm to allow for construction works at Art Centre Melbourne. Outside of that period, other lanes of Sturt Street will remain open, however there may be intermittent, temporary closures on some days in August. Traffic management will be in place to minimise disruption.

Sturt Street - Services Relocations

Services such as power, water, sewerage and communications need to be re-routed or relocated to get ready for major works on the Melbourne Arts Precinct transformation. Some of these works may be done in nearby streets, depending on the location of the services. This may result in traffic disruptions. Traffic management will be in place.

The services works are scheduled to start late 2022 and will run into 2023.
